TEN HORSES WERE BURNED

The Poor Brutes Snerled and Shrieked. But They Were Beyond all Human Power—Disastrous Fire Early Yesterday Morning.

A disastrous fire occurred at the foot of Washington street early yesterday morning, the stable of the East Liverpool Coal company being destroyed with 10 of the concerns' horses.

The origin of the fire is a mystery. No lamps are ever left burning and it is thought by many that incendiaries are responsible for the blaze. The flames were discovered by Calvin Bannister, a colored man who came in on the midnight train, and an alarm was sent in. The company lost no time in reaching the railroad but was there delayed by a passing freight for several minutes. The engineer had been signalled to stop, but realizing that he could make better time by passing than the department could gain if he cut the train in two he opened the throttle wide, and went down the grade at a rapid rate. Meantime the flames were bursting from different parts of the building, and great volumes of smoke showed the fire was making headway. The burning hay dropped from the upper story to the manure and the first floor was soon on fire. Two strong streams were soon playing on the fire, and the firemen worked hard to liberate the horses, a dozen of whom were penned in the stable. After much tugging and shouting two horses were liberated. One animal fell in the doorway, and though three others were standing directly behind it waiting to be taken out, they turned and dashed into the building. The long barn was by this time a seething, hissing mass of flame—a furnace from which came the cries and shrieks of the poor horses. The animals seemed to know their fate, and ran about in the fire until, one by one, they were overcome and died. The noises, almost human in their agony, became less loud, and eventually ceased. For two hours the company fought the flames, and Chief Adam at length reached the conclusion that all danger was over, and Faulk's mill, threatened several times, was safe.

The building is a total wreck. Charles and Thomas Forster are the owners of the property, the latter being at present in Florida. A conservative estimate of the loss is $3,000 on which there was an insurance of $1,300, $700 of the amount being on the horses and grain in the building. Many people visited the place during the day, among them being several members of the board of health. Messrs. Huston, Chambers, Doctor Ogden and Officer King held an informal meeting and discussed the burial of the horses. Doctor Ogden wanted them burned. Mr. Chambers thought they should be buried in a ditch, with a liberal quantity of lime, and the latter course was decided upon. It is fortunate there was no strong wind, else the residence of John Faulk would have caught, and the frame part of the Mountford pottery might have ignited. The structure will be rebuilt.

A thrilling incident of the fire occurred when the second story fell in. George Zink was aiding the firemen in the attempt to get out the horses when he saw the ceiling above him shake in a dangerous manner. He made one more ineffectual attempt to get the horses away from the flames, and then got away not a minute too soon, for the floor almost caught him as it fell.

TO ALL VOTERS.

"George, the Growler," Makes an Address to Good Citizens.

"Do you desire the enforcement of the laws and ordinances controlling the city of East Liverpool? Do you desire that said laws and ordinances shall be intelligently drawn up, and made so explicit and clear that they shall not be misconstrued, and so applied by cunning legal lights, as to offer up an avenue of escape and immunity from punishment to the lawbreaker and evil doer? Do you desire that honest, true and conscientious men shall sit in the councilmanic chairs of this municipality, men who shall reflect credit upon their constituents and bring honor to the city? Do you desire to elect a mayor or marshal who shall recognize the fact that they have been placed in office, by the people, for the good of the people, and for the enforcement of existing laws, looking to the peace and good order of the community at large? Are you aware of the fact that law-abiding, order loving and good citizens are largely in the majority in this bustling and wide-awake pottery center, and that they, the good citizens, laborers, mechanics, professional and business men, can elect whom they please, if they but act in concert and unite on good and true men as candidates?"

"It is a burning sin and shame that men shall be elected to office in East Liverpool for the express purpose of taking action that shall defeat the laws and ordinances of the city, and circumvent all efforts made by good citizens to have said laws enforced, and that said officials shall have all the expenses of their canvass and election paid out of the general treasury of the men who are determined that law and order shall not be enforced in this community. And this is just what has occurred in this city, as per the evidence of men who are in a position to know the facts in the case. It is a crying shame, a lasting disgrace and an outrage upon decency.

"Right in council have I sat and listened to a drunken member of that body use the vilest of billingsgate and most horrid profanity, and noted that he was merely reprimanded, instead of being tried and dismissed from that august assembly? Again have I been present when the same member was guilty of such infamous conduct that the president was compelled to have him forcibly removed from the hall by an officer of the law. Again have I heard the same councilman assault, in open session, the city engineer, and term that gentleman a d-d liar. Is not such conduct on the part of one of our solons simply infamous, and does it not reflect discredit upon his constituents?"

"On Saturday night last, on Fifth street, near the office of Doctor Norris, I noticed a drunken man reeling along the pavement from curb to inner brick, and he almost collided with a lady and gentleman who were passing. The very air in that community was redolent of the fumes of booze, as the drunken city official went muttering and staggering along. Yes, drunken city official, and his name can and will be spoken before council, if that body sees fit to examine into the matter, and the members of that body shall find that 'George, the Growler,' specifies, instead of dealing in mysterious hints and innuendoes. It is high time that drunken officials shall be banished from our municipal offices. GEORGE THE GROWLER."

TWO DRUNKS

Found Their Way to City Hall, But Paid the Price.

A man who gave his name as Spencer was captured by Officer Earl in the vicinity of the Sebring pottery on Saturday night and taken to jail. He had been spending some of his earnings for booze and was very drunk. The arrest was made on the complaint of a family into whose house he attempted to break, but he excused this on the ground that he believed he was going into his boarding house. He paid $6.75 for the sport.

George Flowers was drunk last night. He was so very drunk that he could not locate himself, and sat down to rest. Then he resumed a reclining position, and was enjoying it as well as possible when Officer Jennings called the patrol. He was allowed to sleep off the effects of his spree and then gave up $6.75 for his bed.

THE NEW RAILROAD.

It Was Contemplated Long Ago on the Same Line.

Says the Canton Repository editorially: "Years ago the late Cornelius Aultman and Louis Schaefer, great public spirits of their day, worked to secure the Baltimore and Ohio through Canton, realizing full well that this town was nearly on an air line from Pittsburgh to Chicago. President Garrett was here. There was great public meetings. The good work then began may possibly be renewed in the Canton and East Liverpool enterprise. The advantages to the Baltimore and Ohio of such a link are so very apparent that it surely ought to be in it. If it isn't, there would be no better way for the Brice lines to go to Pittsburgh. Warrick, the starting point, taps both the Baltimore and Ohio and Brice systems."

FINE LIST OF DOGS

Almost an Hundred Entries for the Dog Show.

BEST CANINE BLOOD IN TOWN

Outsiders Did Not Forget to Fall Into Line—The Lists Closed Saturday Night With Many More Than Were Expected. The Number in Each Class.

The success of the bench show of the kennel club, so far as representation is concerned, was settled on Saturday night when Secretary William M. Hill looked over the list of entries.

A few entries were made during last week, but the majority came pouring in at the last moment, when the owners of good dogs realized that they could not delay a minute longer if they expected to see their pets in the ring. The secretary was rushed with applicants and until a late hour was busy making out blanks. When all was done he found the entries were as follows: Mastiff, one; St. Bernard, four; Great Dane, three; Pointers, five; English Setters, 14; Irish Setters, six; Cockerel Spaniels, five; Red River Spaniels, two; Collies, three; Bull Terriers, 11; Fox Terriers, 17; Irish Terriers, one; Scotch Terriers, one; Black and Tan Terriers, five; Boston Terriers, two; Pugs, seven; Beagles, four. The total number of entries is 97, and a number of them are from out of the city. The majority, however, are from town, and the promoters of the show are surprised to know that there are so many in the city. Some of them have the bluest kind of canine blood in their veins, and can hold their heads as high as any. It is extremely doubtful if any town of our population in Ohio can make as good a showing.

A few letters came to Secretary Hill today by mail, and as they were mailed on Saturday the names of the dogs they contain will be added to the list. This increases the number of entries to 118. The dogs from afar are all good ones, and will add not a little to the importance of the show.

STATES HIS POSITION.

Representative Ashford Says His Bill is Not an A. P. A. Measure.

A special from Columbus has this to say that will interest Columbiana county people:

It has been reported that Mr. Ashford, of Columbiana, presented the bill providing for the inspection of infirmaries, schools, convents, seminaries, etc., by county commissioners or by citizens upon the petition of 20 persons, in the interest of the A. P. A. Mr. Ashford denied that such was the case, and he said that the bill was drawn by a Catholic attorney. It was said that the bill was introduced in order that members of the A. P. A. might gain entrance to convents with a view to ascertaining the workings of those institutions. Mr. Ashford said that this was not the intention of the bill, but that convents were included in the bill, because they are of practically the same class or institutions as the others named.

COMPLIMENTED THE PROFESSOR.

George J. Lucky is Popular and Successful in Pittsburgh.

The Pittsburgh Chronicle of Saturday evening contained a good picture and sketch of Prof. George J. Lucky, superintendent of the schools and well known here, and says:

"As superintendent of the city schools he has introduced many measures of reform which have enhanced the usefulness and efficiency of the school system, and many of his educational ideas have been adopted in other cities and institutions. Possessed of an interesting personality, a cordiality that is always manifested, and rare faculties as a conversationalist, his presence is ever welcome. Professor Lucky is a particular favorite with the school children of the city."

AFTER SMITH'S PIGEONS.

Small Boys Wanted Some Prize Winners.

Arthur C. Smith lives in the upper part of the city and owns a number of fine pigeons, which are comfortably kept in a neat house. Last Saturday night several small boys in search of pigeons attacked the place. They tore down the wire screen and broke the window, but before they could obtain the coveted prizes they were scared away. They got nothing for the work they had done.

CALLED THE POLICE.

But the Offender Had Quietly Left the Place.

There was a row on Franklin street Saturday night, but before the police reached the scene the offender had made good his escape. A man forced his way into a house near the old Coulson place and became involved in a quarrel. He broke a lamp and caused so much noise that Officer Whan was summoned. When he arrived the fellow had been notified of his coming and got away. This is the third row of a similar nature in that quarter within a few weeks.

TESTED HIS HONESTY.

A Merchant Weighed a Customer in the Balance.

There is a business man in town who tests the honesty of his customers. The other day he put eight cents near a small milk bucket on the counter, and soon a man came in. They talked for a few minutes, when the merchant noticed the hand of his customer had covered the money and was slowly dragging it toward the edge of the counter. In another minute it was in the fellow's pocket and he had started toward the door without making a purchase. The merchant called him back, accused him of taking the money and was met with an indignant denial. He was firm, however, and the man eventually handed over the money, under the plea that he did not know he had taken it.

BUYERS IN TOWN.

They Come From Far and Near for Ware.

Julius Levy, of New York, and George Q. Thompson, of St. Louis, were two crockery buyers who made the rounds of the potteries today, looking for bargains. They got them.

Salesmen report that trade is not opening with a boom, but they have secured, in the few weeks out, enough orders to convince them that there is a steady, conservative demand for ware. They do not look for a sky rocket flare or anything of that sort, but see indications which show trade will be good.

DROVE INTO THE RIVER.

Then the Wagon Began to Float Down Stream.

Samuel Graves, a teamster, drove his outfit into the river on Saturday afternoon for the purpose of giving them a washing. He got beyond the proper depth, and before he realized what was happening the wagon bed began to float slowly down stream. After many exertions and a thorough ducking he succeeded in getting to shore with his wagon. A number of persons who saw the accident lent their aid or the result might have been different.

There Were Two Careless Ladies on the Noon Train.

A pair of young women alighted from the noon train today, and one was so careless as to leave her pocket-book in the seat they had occupied. A brakeman noticed it before the train left the station, and handed it over to Agent Adam Hill who will return it to the owner when proper proof is presented. Not a day goes by but what some careless person leaves articles of value in the cars, and railroad men are ever on the lookout for them.

STOLE A COAT.

A Daring Theft From a Dry Goods Store.

The Boston store on Fifth street lost a coat on Saturday night from the display that hung just outside the door. The coat in question was of rubber, and the best of those on exhibition. A woman was seen looking at it, and the next minute she had disappeared and the coat went with her. The deed was committed in an instant almost, and the thief with her property disappeared before she could be restrained.

TOM YORK IS MARRIED.

He Can Now Ride a Bicycle Built for Two.

Word reached friends in this place that Tommy York, the wheel man, was the other day married to Miss Florence Massey at Youngstown, and is now living at that place, where he is employed in a mill, but will abandon it when the racing season opens. York will be in all the road races for miles around, and will stick as closely to the track as in the past. He will, however, make Youngstown his headquarters.

CHANGED THE DATE.

The Charity Concert Will Take Place Next Month.

The date of the charity concert which had been fixed for next Thursday evening has been changed to some time in February, probably the tenth. The change was made because some interested parties could not be ready by that time. The concert is to be given by the young peoples' societies of the churches, and the proceeds will go to charity.

READY FOR BUSINESS

The Board of Improvements Organized.

MAYOR GILBERT IS CHAIRMAN

Clerk Hanley Is the Secretary and the Members Are Ready to Take Up Their Work—The Meeting on Saturday Night Was the First.

The board of improvements, authorized by state law and recently made a part of the city government, was organized on Saturday night.

The meeting was held in the office of Mayor Gilbert and all the members were present, with the exception of Councilman Kent, who is out of the city. The election of officers resulted in the selection of Mayor Gilbert as president; Councilman Kent, vice president; James N. Hanley, secretary. It was decided to take up the work at once, and Commissioner Welch, Engineer George and William Cuthbert were appointed a committee on resolutions, which will deal with the government of the board. J. J. Purinton urged upon the board the necessity of some action that will improve the condition of the roads in East End. Various sidewalks in town were discussed, and paved streets came up for their share of consideration. The condition in which paving is left after gas and water pipes have been put down was talked over, but no action taken. The board will meet again on Feb. 3, when the actual work will begin.

MORE FEVER.

Two Cases Reported to the Health Authorities.

Two cases of typhoid fever were reported to Doctor Ogden this morning the first of the week. There were a number reported last week, and the hope that fever would abate has not been realized. There have been no really serious cases for several days, but the attending physicians can not tell when the treacherous disease will get their patients in a firmer grasp. It has been many months since there were as many cases of typhoid as can be found in town today.

FIXED THE GATE.

An Improvement Being Made at Second Street.

Workmen were engaged today placing the gate at the Second street crossing in working order. The gate has been useless for several weeks and could not be worked. As a protection it was worse than useless, as it only served to deceive. There was a similar experience at the same place last winter, the gate being out of order for a long time.

Wanted to Fight.

A ditch was being dug near the scene of the fire yesterday afternoon when a plain drunk wandered to the place. One of the workmen threw out a shovel of dirt, and it struck the man full in the face. In an instant he was mad as a hornet and wanted to fight, but the workmen laughed at him and he eventually walked away wiping the dirt from his eyes.

Captured a Horse.

A white horse was found strutting on the Lisbon road by a man named Moore today. It was covered with mud, and looked as though it had had a hard gallop toward the city. Moore took charge of the horse, but it was claimed later in the day by a farmer. The horse broke away from the barn early this morning, and eluded all efforts to capture it.

Appropriated a Wagon.

McGhie & Moore and James R. May were made the defendants in a suit filed in the court of Squire Manley this morning by John Ansley. The plaintiff claims the defendants appropriated a wagon belonging to him, and he wants a judgment for $19 at which sum the vehicle is valued.

Nearing Completion.

Work on the improvements at the Fourth street school is almost completed, and in a few days will be done. The scholars have been greatly inconvenienced and there has been no end of complaint, but the improvements made will justify the trouble.

Repaired the Box.

The patrol box at the West End school house, which has been out of order for several days, was repaired on Saturday and is now in good order. The system in the city is at present in very good condition.

Amateurs to Shoot.

The most important event of the shoot tomorrow will be the match between amateurs. It will commence at 1 o'clock, and some good sport is expected.

TO ALL VOTERS.

"George, the Growler," Makes an Address to Good Citizens.

"Do you desire the enforcement of the laws and ordinances controlling the city of East Liverpool? Do you desire that said laws and ordinances shall be intelligently drawn up, and made so explicit and clear that they shall not be misconstrued, and so applied by cunning legal lights, as to offer up an avenue of escape and immunity from punishment to the law-breaker and evil doer? CALLED THE POLICE.

But the Offender Had Quietly Left the Place.

There was a row on Franklin street Saturday night, but before the police reached the scene the offender had made good his escape. A man forced

his way into a house near the old Coulson place and became involved in a quarrel. He broke a lamp and caused so much noise that Officer Whan was summoned. When he arrived the fellow had been notified of his coming and got away. This is the third row of a similar nature in that quarter within a few weeks.

TESTED HIS HONESTY.

A Merchant Weighed a Customer in the Balance.

There is a business man in town who tests the honesty of his customers. The other day he put eight cents near a small milk bucket on the counter, and soon a man came in. They talked for a few minutes, when the merchant noticed the hand of his customer had covered the money and was slowly dragging it toward the edge of the counter. In another minute it was in the fellow's pocket and he had started toward the door without making a purchase. The merchant called him back, accused him of taking the money and was met with an indignant denial. He was firm, however, and the man eventually handed over the money, under the plea that he did not know he had taken it.

BUYERS IN TOWN.

They Come From Far and Near for Ware.

Julius Levy, of New York, and George Q. Thompson, of St. Louis, were two crockery buyers who made the rounds of the potteries today, looking for bargains. They got them.

Salesmen report that trade is not opening with a boom, but they have secured, in the few weeks out, enough orders to convince them that there is a steady, conservative demand for ware. They do not look for a sky rocket flare or anything of that sort, but see indications which show trade will be good.

DROVE INTO THE RIVER.

Then the Wagon Began to Float Down Stream.

Samuel Graves, a teamster, drove his outfit into the river on Saturday afternoon for the purpose of giving them a washing. He got beyond the proper depth, and before he realized what was happening the wagon bed began to float slowly down stream. After many exertions and a thorough ducking he succeeded in getting to shore with his wagon. A number of persons who saw the accident lent their aid or the result might have been different.

There Were Two Careless Ladies on the Noon Train.

A pair of young women alighted from the noon train today, and one was so careless as to leave her pocketbook in the seat they had occupied. A brakeman noticed it before the train left the station, and handed it over to Agent Adam Hill who will return it to the owner when proper proof is presented. Not a day goes by but what some careless person leaves articles of value in the cars, and railroad men are ever on the lookout for them.

A Daring Theft From a Dry Goods Store.

The Boston store on Fifth street lost a coat on Saturday night from the display that hung just outside the door. The coat in question was of rubber, and the best of those on exhibition. A woman was seen looking at it, and the next minute she had disappeared and the coat went with her. The deed was committed in an instant almost, and the thief with her property disappeared before she could be restrained.

TOM YORK IS MARRIED.

He Can Now Ride a Bicycle Built for Two.

Word reached friends in this place that Tommy York, the wheel man, was the other day married to Miss Florence Massey at Youngstown, and is now living at that place, where he is employed in a mill, but will abandon it when the racing season opens. York will be in all the road races for miles around, and will stick as closely to the track as in the past. He will, however, make Youngstown his headquarters.

CHANGED THE DATE.

The Charity Concert Will Take Place Next Month.

The date of the charity concert which had been fixed for next Thursday evening has been changed to some time in February, probably the tenth. The change was made because some interested parties could not be ready by that time. The concert is to be given by the young peoples' societies of the churches, and the proceeds will go to charity.

The Board of Improvements Organized.

MAYOR GILBERT IS CHAIRMAN

Clerk Hanley Is the Secretary and the Members Are Ready to Take Up Their Work—The Meeting on Saturday Night Was the First.

The meeting was held in the office of Mayor Gilbert and all the members were present, with the exception of Councilman Kent, who is out of the city. The election of officers resulted in the selection of Mayor Gilbert as president; Councilman Kent, vice president; James N. Hanley, secretary. It was decided to take up the work at once, and Commissioner Welch, Engineer George and William Cuthbert were appointed a committee on resolutions, which will deal with the government of the board. J. J. Purinton urged upon the board the necessity of some action that will improve the condition of the roads in East End. Various sidewalks in town were discussed, and paved streets came up for their share of consideration. The condition in which paving is left after gas and water pipes have been put down was talked over, but no action taken. The board will meet again on Feb. 3, when the actual work will begin.

MORE FEVER.

Two Cases Reported to the Health Authorities.

Two cases of typhoid fever were reported to Doctor Ogden this morning the first of the week. There were a number reported last week, and the hope that fever would abate has not been realized. There have been no really serious cases for several days, but the attending physicians can not tell when the treacherous disease will get their patients in a firmer grasp. It has been many months since there were as many cases of typhoid as can be found in town today.

FIXED THE GATE.

Workmen were engaged today placing the gate at the Second street crossing in working order. The gate has been useless for several weeks and could not be worked. As a protection it was worse than useless, as it only served to deceive. There was a similar experience at the same place last winter, the gate being out of order for a long time.

Wanted to Fight.

A ditch was being dug near the scene of the fire yesterday afternoon when a plain drunk wandered to the place. One of the workmen threw out a shovel of dirt, and it struck the man full in the face. In an instant he was mad as a hornet and wanted to fight, but the workmen laughed at him and he eventually walked away wiping the dirt from his eyes.

Captured a Horse.

A white horse was found strolling on the Lisbon road by a man named Moore today. It was covered with mud, and looked as though it had had a hard gallop toward the city. Moore took charge of the horse, but it was claimed later in the day by a farmer. The horse broke away from the barn early this morning, and eluded all efforts to capture it.

Appropriated a Wagon.

McGhie and Moore and James R. May were made the defendants in a suit filed in the court of Squire Manley this morning by John Ansley. The plaintiff claims the defendants appropriated a wagon belonging to him, and he wants a judgment for $19 at which sum the vehicle is valued.

Nearing Completion.

Work on the improvements at the Fourth street school is almost completed, and in a few days will be done. The scholars have been greatly inconvenienced and there has been no end of complaint, but the improvements made will justify the trouble.

Repaired the Box.

The patrol box at the West End school house, which has been out of order for several days, was repaired on Saturday and is now in good order. The system in the city is at present in very good condition.

Amateurs to Shoot.

The most important event of the shoot tomorrow will be the match between amateurs. It will commence at 1 o'clock, and some good sport is expected.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., MONDAY, JAN. 27.

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
Of Ohio.

EVEN though the latest story of the Russo-Turkish alliance be true, it is no
cause for wonder. The sultan is not
the first man to sell himself for gold.

THE gold reserve is dwindling away
like a white frost in an October sun,
and yet President Cleveland adheres
to his opinion that the government
does not need more revenue.

GOVERNOR BUSHELL, plain man of
business that he is, will not allow the office seekers to bother him. He knows the needs of the state, and in
good time will make his own selections.

If man will deliberately murder his fellow man the death penalty must be
a factor in Ohio law, and if electrocu-
tion is less painful than hanging, the state should adopt that method. It is justice and not torture the law seeks
to inflict.

WHILE the Democratic newspapers
are busily engaged telling each other
of the hatred they have found between Mr. McKinley and Mr. Foraker,
some vivid imagination occasionally
springs a surprise. The latest comes
from Toledo, where it was announced
that certain politicians of Ohio have leagued with Mr. Platt to diver into
his hands the Ohio delegation at St.
Louis whenever he demands it. The
story sounds well, but the writer for-
got one consideration—the delegation
may have something to say about it.

A MATTER OF JUSTICE.

Columbus is torn with sensations
since the grand jury has been finding
indictments against legislators who
are charged with various offenses
while in office. All sorts of denials
and contradictory statements are being made, but they will have no effect
upon the court; nor should they. For many years it has been charged that
the Ohio legislature was a hot bed of
corruption, and that bribery was of hourly occurrence. Doubtless some of these stories have been false, perhaps
the majority were taken much as Mr.
Campbell acknowledged that he told
on the stump, but there may be room
for the belief that some were true. If the court can develop this, let the guilty ones be punished. It is not a matter of partisan feeling or political
belief, but the demands of justice.
Let the courts search out those who
have betrayed the confidence of the people, and make them suffer the penalty. This is not a time for excuses
or whitewash. Ohio wants none of it.
The spirit of fairness ever alive in the state will not allow it. It is a matter
of right and nothing more. No man
can expect to hold public office, and
use it as an unlawful speculation.
No matter what his politics, if he be
guilty, punish him.

There is good reason for the popularity of Chamberlain's Cough remedy.
Davis & Buzard, of West Monterey,
Clarion company, Pa., says: "It has
cured people that our physicians could
do nothing for. We persuaded them to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough remedy and they now recommend it with the rest of us." Twenty-
five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A.
H. Bulger, druggist.

SPEAR WON'T RESIGN.

Sleeper Said to Have Advised
Not to.

DECLARES HE IS NOT GUILTY.

Legislators in Columbus Believe the Clinton County Member Has Been Imposed Upon—The Story of the Charge and the Conference at Wilmington.

COLUMBUS, Jan. 27.—There is no doubt that Representative Spear of Wilmington, owing to the charge that he had offered the appointment of penitentiary
guard to the highest bidder, Spear
came to Columbus Saturday for the purpose of presenting his resignation to Speaker Sleeper. It also develops that, contrary to supposition, he did
see the speaker and conferred with him.
Upon telling Mr. Sleeper of the situation and emphatically declaring his innocence, the speaker told him if what he said was strictly the truth and nothing
but the truth, he ought not to resign.
If what Mr. Spear said was true, it was the speaker's opinion that there was no reason for him to resign, and that he would only injure himself by resigning. It seems that Mr. Spear was very much agitated over the meeting at Wilmington, and was led to believe that he ought to resign. But after conferring with Speaker Sleeper his excitement somewhat subsided, and he concluded to keep his seat. There is now
no probability of his resigning.

It is the opinion in legislative circles
here that Representative Spear has been imposed upon. Mr. Spear is known as a man unused to the ways of practical politics and inexperienced in worldly affairs.

A personal acquaintance says Spear
was offered money for the position, and
as he had been under considerable campaign expense, he agreed to think over the matter, instead of immediately declining it, although he did so later.

For some weeks past there has been a hot contest for the appointment of a penitentiary guard from Clinton county.
P. D. Barrett, Reuben Jones, John Sherman and Moses Edwards of Wilmington, and Aurelius Hogan of Martins-
ville were applicants for the position.
Hogan was appointed. Since then Barrett has made the charge, which has caused such a flurry.

O. R. Fisher, editor of the Wilmington Journal, after the charge was made, summoned Spear to Wilmington. According to the story received from there,
a conference was held, and Spear, it is alleged, was faced by his accuser Barrett, and it is also alleged that he acknowledged that he did offer the appointment to Mr. Barrett, provided that he would give to Mr. Barrett $300. Mr.
Spear, it is alleged, acknowledged that he had offered the position to another applicant, in consideration of the payment of $100. At the solicitation of friends,
Mr. Spear went to Columbus to consult with Mr. Sleeper as to tendering his resignation.

Monuments on the Brain.

dem, a resident of Tiffin township, and who has been going about the county
for some time soliciting subscriptions to a fund to erect a monument to the memory of his brother, ex-Congressman

been adjudged insane.

Ice Gorge Damages a Bridge.

TOLEDO, Jan. 27.—The ice gorge in the Maumee river, about eight miles
above the city, has broken and in running out carried away two spans of the new bridge in course of construction.
The bridge was supported by a trestle
work on the ice, and the loss is estimated at $50,000.

Captain Thomas Declared Insane.

COLUMBUS, Jan. 27.—Guy L. Thomas, whose eccentric actions while captain of Company K, Third regiment, Militia, at Troy, excited some attention some months ago, has been in jail here for a week or two, on a charge of selling some railroad tickets obtained by false pretenses.

Fearful Nitroglycerin Explosion.

St. MARY'S O., Jan. 27.—A wagon
load of nitroglycerin has exploded in the

OUR CONTENTION JUST.

So Says Secretary Chamberlain, Who Also Praises Cleveland.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—The Right Hon.
Joseph Chamberlain, secretary of state
for the Colonies, in speaking at Birmingham said, regarding the Venezuelan
matter, that he thought there had been
misapprehension on both sides of the water. The idea seemed to prevail in America that England was disposed to
impugn the Monroe doctrine—a doctrine
to which the people of the United States rightly attached much importance.

It was also believed in America that Great Britain was disposed to deal in a harsh and arbitrary manner with Venezuela, but reflection had brought about a more favorable understanding, and America would regard with horror a
war with those of her own blood and
kindred.

"Cleveland, whose acquaintance I
have the honor to possess," said Mr.
Chamberlain, in concluding his address,
"bears a high reputation for rectitude
and honorable dealing. He is incapable of the wickedness of inciting two
kindred nations to strife and blood-
shed."

HOPE FOR THE ST. PAUL.

She Is Pulled Off Apiece From the Jersey Shore.

SANDY HOOK, Jan. 27.—The life-saving people report that the American
liner St. Paul has been moved about 75
feet northeast and off shore. She went ashore Saturday in the fog off Long Branch. The Canadian Campania had a narrow escape at the same time.

President C. A. Griscom and all the other representatives of the International Navigation company, popularly known as the American line, have
taken a decidedly more hopeful view of the situation of the stranded St. Paul.
They placed great reliance on the Chapman Wrecking company who have
charge of the pulling off of the big
steamer, and they hope to have the St.
Paul at her berth at the foot of Vesey
street, New York, before the end of this
week.

REFRAIN FROM VIOLENCE.

This Is President Cleveland's Advice In
Message to Venezuelans.

CARACAS, Venezuela, Jan. 27.—General George Uziar has arrived from the United States and has delivered to President Crespo a message from President Cleveland asking the people of Venezuela to refrain from violence during the present crisis.

Nicholas Biddle, the correspondent
here for a New York paper, has made a
sworn complaint before the American
minister. He was taking photographs in the streets of La Guayra and was arrested as an English spy. President
Crespo released him.

Studied Grant's Career in Mexico.

CITY OF MEXICO, Jan. 27.—John Rus-
sell Young, ex-minister to China returns

completed his prolonged study of the Mexican battlefields in which General
Grant distinguished himself in the war
of 1847 for his forthcoming book. Mr.
Young has been accorded every courtesy
by President Diaz and the governor,
and has secured copies of very many
valuable documents hitherto unedited
throwing light on points of history.

Sensational Shooting at Hot Springs.

LITTLE ROCK, Jan. 27.—Colonel S. H.
Stitt, one of the proprietors of the Arlington, and Colonel Abner L. Gaines,
a guest, became involved in a dispute
when both drew their revolvers. A hotel detective took a hand at this jun-
cture and, promiscuous firing ensued in
which Abner Gaines was wounded below the knee. Gaines resides in London, England, and is wealthy.

A Defenseless Town.

CADIZ, O., Jan. 27.—Last spring an anti-saloon council was elected, who put
the saloons out and refused to confirm Mayor Moore's appointment of the old police force. No other was appointed,
and Cadiz is without police protection
and criminals are not idle.

ated that place with the honors of war.

THE DEATH OF RUNYON.

As Unexpected as It Was De-
plorable.

DIED AT HIS POST IN BERLIN.

Heart Failure Carried Off the United States Ambassador to Germany Very
Suddenly—First American of That
Rank to Germany.

BERLIN, Jan. 27.—The death of
Theodore Runyon, United States ambassador to Germany, was as unexpected
as it was deplorable. It was due to heart failure.

No longer ago than last Tuesday evening he was present at a dinner given in his honor by ex-Empress Frederick,
mother of King William. Last summer
he had planned to make an extended
trip through Norway, but on the advice
of his physician he abandoned this trip
and instead went to Carlsbad, where he took the cure. He subsequently went to Axenstein, in Switzerland, for the purpose of taking an after cure. Since
that time, however, he has manifested
great activity in the discharge of the duties of his office, which have been
more than usually onerous on account of

the complications in European affairs
which have more or less demanded the
attention and care of the diplomatic representatives of all nations. His death
comes as a great shock to official and social circles here in Berlin, where he was a great favorite.

Theodore Runyon was born at Somerville, N. J., Oct. 25, 1832. He graduated
from Yale college in 1854 and in 1856
was admitted to the bar. In 1853 he
was made city attorney, and in 1856 city
counselor of Newark, N. J., a position he retained until 1864 he became mayor of the city. He was appointed in 1866 a commissioner to revise and codify the military laws of New Jersey, and in 1867 was made brigadier
general and subsequently major general
of the New Jersey national guard. At
the outbreak of the civil war he was placed in command of a New Jersey
brigade of volunteers. In 1865 he was Democratic candidate for governor of
his state, but was not elected. In 1873
to 1887 he was chancellor of New Jersey. In March, 1893, he was appointed by President Cleveland, United States minister to Germany, and shortly
afterwards was made ambassador, in accordance with a law of congress that
the United States representative in Germany should be raised to the rank
of ambassador reciprocally with the
similar action on the part of the German government concerning its representative in the United States. A degree of LL. D. was conferred upon him
by Yale, Rutgers and Wesleyan colleges.

WE MAY MENACE TURKEY.

Sensational Letters From Washington In
a London Paper.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—Westminster Gazette prints two sensational letters from
a Washington correspondent saying that
the United States government, about
Jan. 12, had made full preparations to menace Turkey with a large fleet of
warships and was going to seize a port
and collect indemnity for outrages on American missionaries. It was also intended, owing to the activity of Europe,
to stop the massacres of Armenians. For some reason the project is at a halt.

The Westminster Gazette, in commenting on the matter, says: "We
need only say that any action which the American government can take in this
matter will be warmly welcomed, even
by those who have most resented the
action taken at Washington concerning
the frontier of British Guiana."

SHOLTO GETS A BOX.

Dan Stuart Honors the Grandson of Old
Queensberry.

EL PASO, Tex., Jan. 27.—Dan Stuart
has received a telegram from Sacramento, asking if a box could be reserved
for Lord Sholto Douglass, son of the Marquis of Queensberry. Stuart replied to his lordship: "As the glove
contests will all be under the rules of
the Marquis of Queensberry, it will not
be inappropriate for his son to be at the ringside. Box asked for awaits your pleasure."

Lord Sholto Douglass is said to have
in his possession the original parchment
upon which the Marquis of Queensberry
had the fighting rules engrossed.

NO MENACE TO US.

The Flying Squadron a Notice to Europe,
Says an Englishman.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 27.—"The fitting of
the flying squadron was merely to show
Europe that England was prepared to
defend her corner against the nations.
I do not think that any one in Great Britain ever thought the squadron was placed in action to be used against the United States."

This was the statement made by Sir
Wheelman Pearson, M. P. from Colchester, Essex county, England, at the Southern hotel.

"When we first heard of your Monroe
doctrine declaration," he said, "we thought you had gone crazy. You gave us a terrible shock for a few days. There is no doubt that England recognizes the Monroe doctrine in its broad sense, and
is willing to abide by it on all occasions,
but this disputed territory has been
claimed by Great Britain for years, and
the dispute is merely over the boundary,
surely not a sufficient cause for war.
Since this trouble has arisen there if a growing sentiment in England in favor
of a permanent international commission."

A CRAZY NEPHEW'S DEED.

Hacks His Aunt and Uncle With an Ax
For a Fancied Wrong.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Driven to frenzy
by brooding over a wrong he thought
perpetrated upon him, Patrick Mc-Mahon, son of a rich ex-carpenter, has
deliberately hacked the heads of his
uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Sexton,
with an ax. He tried to justify his deed by charging that they poisoned his mother and separated him from his father. The aunt has died, while the uncle is very low.

It is believed that McMahon is insane.
The neighbors said that his talk of the
poisoning of his mother, who died two
years ago, by his aunt and uncle were
only the ravings of a diseased brain.

Ex-Minister Thurston Talks.

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—The Times-Herald

matic courtesy and tried to provoke
quarrels.

charge of the destruction of the bank
notes sent in for redemption.

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
Of Ohio.

EVEN though the latest story of the
Russo-Turkish alliance be true, it is no
cause for wonder. The sultan is not
the first man to sell himself for gold.

The gold reserve is dwindling away
like a white frost in an October sun,
and yet President Cleveland adheres
to his opinion that the government
does not need more revenue.

GOVERNOR BUSHELL, plain man of
business that he is, will not allow the
office seekers to bother him. He
knows the needs of the state, and in
good time will make his own selections.

If man will deliberately murder his
fellow man the death penalty must be
a factor in Ohio law, and if electrocu-
tion is less painful than hanging, the
state should adopt that method. It is
justice and not torture the law seeks
to inflict.

WHILE the Democratic newspapers
are busily engaged telling each other
of the hatred they have found between Mr. McKinley and Mr. Foraker,
some vivid imagination occasionally
springs a surprise. The latest comes
from Toledo, where it was announced
that certain politicians of Ohio have
leagued with Mr. Platt to diver into
his hands the Ohio delegation at St.
Louis whenever he demands it. The
story sounds well, but the writer for-
got one consideration—the delegation
may have something to say about it.

Columbus is torn with sensations
since the grand jury has been finding
indictments against legislators who
are charged with various offenses
while in office. All sorts of denials
and contradictory statements are be-
ing made, but they will have no effect
upon the court; nor should they. For
many years it has been charged that
the Ohio legislature was a hot bed of
corruption, and that bribery was of
hourly occurrence. Doubtless some of
these stories have been false, perhaps
the majority were taken much as Mr.
Campbell acknowledged that he told
on the stump, but there may be room
for the belief that some were true. If
the court can develop this, let the
guilty ones be punished. It is not a matter of partisan feeling or political
bellef, but the demands of justice.
Let the courts search out those who
have betrayed the confidence of the
people, and make them suffer the penalty. This is not a time for excuses
or whitewash. Ohio wants none of it.
The spirit of fairness ever alive in the
state will not allow it. It is a matter
of right and nothing more. No man
can expect to hold public office, and
use it as an unlawful speculation.
No matter what his politics, if he be
guilty, punish him.

There is good reason for the popularity of Chamberlain's Cough remedy.
Davis & Buzard, of West Monterey,
Clarion company, Pa., says: "It has
cured people that our physicians could
do nothing for. We persuaded them to
try a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough remedy and they now recommend it with the rest of us." Twenty-
five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A.
H. Bulger, druggist.

JOSEPH BROS.

OUR CONTENTION JUST.

Re Says Secretary Chamberlain, Who Also Fraises Cleveland.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—The Right Hon.
Joseph Chamberlain, secretary of state
for the Colonies, in speaking at Birmingham said, regarding the Venezuelan
matter, that he thought there had been
misapprehension on both sides of the
water. The idea seemed to prevail in America that England was disposed to
impugn the Monroe doctrine—a doctrine
to which the people of the United States rightly attached much importance.

It was also believed in America that Great Britain was disposed to deal in a harsh and arbitrary manner with Venezuela, but reflection had brought about
a more favorable understanding, and America would regard with horror a
war with those of her own blood and
kindred.

"Cleveland, whose acquaintance I
have the honor to possess," said Mr.
Chamberlain, in concluding his address,
"bears a high reputation for rectitude
and honorable dealing. He is incap-
able of the wickedness of inciting two
kindred nations to strife and blood-
shed."

HOPE FOR THE ST. PAUL;

She Is Pulled Off Apiece From the Jersey Shore.

SANDY HOOK, Jan. 27.—The life-saving people report that the American
liner St. Paul has been moved about 75
feet northeast and off shore. She went
ashore Saturday in the fog off Long Branch. The Cunarder Campana had a narrow escape at the same time.

President C. A. Griscom and all the other representatives of the International Navigation company, popularly
known as the American line, have
taken a decidedly more hopeful view of
the situation of the stranded St. Paul.
They placed great reliance on the
Chapman Wrecking company who have
charge of the pulling off of the big
steamer, and they hope to have the St.
Paul at her berth at the foot of Vesey
street, New York, before the end of this
week.

REFRAIN FROM VIOLENCE.

This Is President Cleveland's Advice In
Message to Venezuelans.

CARACAS, Venezuela, Jan. 27.—General
George Usher has arrived from the United States and has delivered to President Crespo a message from President
Cleveland asking the people of Venezuela to refrain from violence during the present crisis.

Nicholas Biddle, the correspondent
here for a New York paper, has made a
sworn complaint before the American
minister. He was taking photographs in
the streets of La Guayra and was arrested as an English spy. President
Crespo released him.

Studied Grant's Career In Mexico.

CITY OF MEXICO, Jan. 27.—John Rus-
sell Young, ex-minister to China returns
this week to the United States, having
completed his prolonged study of the
Mexican battlefields in which General
Grant distinguished himself in the war
of 1847 for his forthcoming book? Mr.
Young has been accorded every courtesy
by President Diaz and the governor,
and has secured copies of very many
valuable documents hitherto unedited
throwing light on points of history.

Sensational Shooting at Hot Springs.

LITTLE ROCK, Jan. 27.—Colonel S. H.
Stitt, one of the proprietors of the Arlington, and Colonel Abner L. Gaines,
a guest, became involved in a dispute
when both drew their revolvers. A
hotel detective took a hand at this jun-
cture and promiscuous firing ensued in
which Abner Gaines was wounded below the knee. Gaines resides in London, England, and is wealthy.

A Defenseless Town.

CADIZ, O., Jan. 27.—Last spring an

and Cadiz is without police protection
and criminals are not idle.

THE DEATH OF RUNYON.

As Unexpected as It Was De-
plorable.

DIED AT HIS POST IN BERLIN.

Heart Failure Carried Off the United States Ambassador to Germany Very
Suddenly—First American of That
Rank to Germany.

BERLIN, Jan. 27.—The death of
Theodore Runyon, United States am-
bassador to Germany, was as unexpected
as it was deplorable. It was due to
heart failure.

No longer ago than last Tuesday evening he was present at a dinner given in
his honor by ex-Empress Frederick,
mother of King William. Last summer
he had planned to make an extended
trip through Norway, but on the advice
of his physician he abandoned this trip
and instead went to Carlsbad, where he
took the cure. He subsequently went to Aachen, in Switzerland, for the purpose of taking an after cure. Since
that time, however, he has manifested
great activity in the discharge of the
duties of his office, which have been
more than usually onerous on account of

the complications in European affairs
which have more or less demanded the
attention and care of the diplomatic representatives of all nations. His death
comes as a great shock to official and so-
a great favorite.

Theodore Runyon was born at Som-
erville, N. J., Oct. 25, 1832. He graduated
from Yale college in 1842 and in 1846
was admitted to the bar. In 1855 he
was made city attorney, and in 1856 city
councilor of Newark, N. J., a position he retained until in 1864 he became mayor of the city. He was appointed in 1866 a commissioner to revise and codify
the military laws of New Jersey, and in 1867 was made brigadier
general and subsequently major general
of the New Jersey national guard. At
the outbreak of the civil war he was
placed in command of a New Jersey
brigade of volunteers. In 1865 he was Democratic candidate for governor of
his state, but was not elected. In 1873
to 1887 he was chancellor of New Jersey. In March, 1893, he was appointed by President Cleveland United States minister to Germany, and shortly
afterwards was made ambassador, in accordance with a law of congress that
the United States representative in Germany should be raised to the rank
of ambassador reciprocally with the
similar action on the part of the German government concerning its representative in the United States. A degree of LL. D. was conferred upon him
by Yale, Rutgers and Wesleyan colleges.

WE MAY MENACE TURKEY.

Sensational Letters From Washington In
a London Paper.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—Westminster Gazette prints two sensational letters from
a Washington correspondent saying that
the United States government, about
Jan. 12, had made full preparations to
menace Turkey with a large fleet of
warships and was going to seize a port
and collect indemnity for outrages on American missionaries. It was also intended, owing to the activity of Europe,
to stop the massacres of Armenians. For
some reason the project is at a halt.

The Westminster Gazette, in commenting on the matter, says: "We
need only say that any action which the American government can take in this
matter will be warmly welcomed, even
by those who have most resented the
action taken at Washington concerning
the frontier of British Guiana."

SHOLTO GETS A BOX.

Dan Stuart Honors the Grandson of Old
Queensberry.

EL PASO, Tex., Jan. 27.—Dan Stuart
has received a telegram from Sacramento, asking if a box could be reserved
for Lord Sholto Douglass, son of the Marquis of Queensberry. Stuart replied to his lordship: "As the glove
contests will all be under the rules of
the Marquis of Queensberry, it will not
be inappropriate for his son to be at the
ringside." Box asked for awaits your
pleasure."

Lord Sholto Douglass is said to have
in his possession the original parchment
upon which the Marquis of Queensberry
had the fighting rules engrossed.

NO MENACE TO US.

The Flying Squadron a Notice to Europe,
Says an Englishman.

St. LOUIS, Jan. 27.—"The fitting of
the flying squadron was merely to show
Europe that England was prepared to
defend her corner against the nations.
I do not think that any one in Great Britain ever thought the squadron was
placed in action to be used against the United States."

This was the statement made by Sir
Whellman Pearson, M. P., from Colchester, Essex county, England, at the Southern hotel.

"When we first heard of your Monroe
doctrine declaration," he said, "we
thought you had gone crazy. You gave us a terrible shock for a few days. There
is no doubt that England recognizes the Monroe doctrine in its broad sense, and
is willing to abide by it on all occasions,
but this disputed territory has been
claimed by Great Britain for years, and
the dispute is merely over the boundary.
Surely not a sufficient cause for war.
Since this trouble has arisen there if a
growing sentiment in England in favor
of a permanent international commission."

A CRAZY NEPHEW'S DEED.

Hacks His Aunt and Uncle With an Ax
For a Fancied Wrong.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Driven to frenzy
by brooding over a wrong he thought
perpetrated upon him, Patrick Mc-Mahon, son of a rich ex-carpenter, has
deliberately hacked the heads of his
uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Sexton,
with an ax. He tried to justify his
deed by charging that they poisoned his
mother and separated him from his father. The aunt has died, while the
uncle is very low.

It is believed that McMahon is insane.
The neighbors said that his talk of the
poisoning of his mother, who died two
years ago, by his aunt and uncle were
only the ravings of a diseased brain.

Ex-Minister Thurston Talks.

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—The Times-Herald

matic courtesy and tried to provoke
quarrels.

The Nevada Jones Still Holds Back the Tariff Bill—Friends May Get It Into the Senate This Week—The Monroe Doctrine Resolution.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The silver substitute for the bond bill and the Monroe doctrine declaration will continue to be the chief subjects for consideration in the senate during the present term. Senator Jones of Arkansas, in charge of the silver bill, has given notice that he will attempt to secure a vote on the bill on Thursday, and that he will ask the senate to remain in session Thursday night until this is accomplished; but it is considered probable, by the friends of the bill, that he may not succeed at that time in getting a vote, and that this will not come until Friday or Saturday. The opponents of the bill are not so far as has been discovered, seeking to delay the final disposition of the measure, and its advocates will have no object in further postponement after the initiation of the Utah senators into their duties as senators; but there are a number of senators who desire to speak on the bill.

The silver bill is expected to pass, but even its friends do not place the majority to exceed five votes, while others insist that with affirmative votes from both the Utah senators, the majority will not exceed three. The bill is so radical that the more conservative silver men probably will cast their votes against it. Mr. Thurston is the only senator who has given notice of a speech on the Davis-Monroe doctrine resolution, but there are other senators prepared to speak to this when opportunity shall offer. Senator Davis, the author of the resolution, will be absent from the city during the week and consequently the resolution will not be pressed to a vote.

The friends of the revenue tariff bill will make an effort to get that measure into the senate in some shape during the week. A meeting of the finance committee will be held to-morrow. If Senator Jones of Nevada is present at that meeting his vote will decide whether the bill shall be reported favorably or adversely, if he is not present it is probable that the committee will inform the senate of its failure to reach an agreement and make a report without recommendation.

FOREIGN RELATIONS

Ball Started Rolling Today in the House and May Continue All Week.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The week in the house promises a spirited discussion of our foreign relations. It opened today with the presentation of the resolution of the foreign affairs committee on Armenia, and will be continued in connection with the consideration of the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill which will be taken up immediately afterward.

This bill will open the gates to a general debate on foreign affairs and complications in all parts of the world. The China-Japanese war, the massacre of American missionaries in China, the Venezuelan dispute, the Corinto incident, the outrages in Armenia with all their attendant European complications, the invasion of the Transvaal and the arrests of Americans at Johannesburg by the Boer government, the Alaskan boundary dispute, the award of the Bering Sea commission, the Cuban war for independence, the Waller incident and the Bayard speeches; any, or all of these may become fruitful topics for debate during the consideration of this bill.

ENGLAND'S INTENTION.

She Asks That a Commission Settle the Bering Sea Claims.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Ambassador Pauncefoot has called on Secretary Olney to submit the final acceptance of the British government to the agreement for a Bering Sea commission, to pass upon the claims of Canadian sealers for alleged losses prior to the Paris award.

It remains only for the president to submit the plan to congress, and as the legislative branch has refused to pay a lump sum for the seizures, it is considered certain that the commission arrangement will be approved. The one point that congress will insist upon is that no consequential damages shall be taken into consideration in making the award.

Too Much Paid For Armor.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The inquiry into the navy department's connection with the manufacturers of Harveyized steel was continued by the senate committee on naval affairs Saturday. Senator Chandler presented the record in the law suit of James R. Davis against the Harvey company, in which Commander Folger's connection with the company was developed. Sufficient information was elicited, it is said, to convince the committee that the price of $500 per ton now paid for armor is too high.

A Woman Addressed the Suffragists.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The delegates to the National Woman's Suffrage association, now in session here, attended divine service at the Church of Our Father Sunday. Miss Elizabeth Upham Yates presided over the meeting, and the address was delivered by Mrs. Charlotte Perkins Stetson of California.

Silver Wedding of McKinley.

CANTON, O., Jan. 27.—Governor and Mrs. McKinley celebrated their silver wedding anniversary Saturday with a quiet dinner at their home on Market street. A large number of letters and telegrams of congratulations were received, and not a few presents.

A Sheriff Prevents a Lynching.

SULLIVAN, Ind., Jan. 27.—A mob had endeavored to lynch Grant Atterbury, who is under arrest on a charge of assaulting his sister-in-law. The mob was driven off by the sheriff. The only evidence against him is that bloodhounds followed a trail to his house.

Ben, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mills Bennett who is ill with typhoid fever, has now passed the most critical period, and it is thought that he will live.

Chester is all agog over the bridge, and property values have already advanced. Houses and lots have become much more valuable within the last few weeks.

George Smith, baggage-master of the station, is suffering from an attack of erysipelas and his place is being filled by Agent Hill and the remainder of the force.

George W. Ashbaugh today announces himself as a candidate for council in the Fourth ward. Mr. Ashbaugh has lived here for years, and is well known in the city. He is entering the race to win.

There is a move on foot to move the college from Bethany to Hiram, O., where the two institutions will be consolidated. The faculty oppose the plan. The college has educated a number of East Liverpool boys.

An Italian named Dominick, who has charge of the Italians at work over the river, moved his family here from Pittsburgh today. An additional force of Italians will be here tomorrow and will be put to work at once.

Saturday night was a quiet one for the police, there being no arrests during the evening. A number of beautiful jags wandered through the streets, but got home in time to escape arrest.

A tramp with a ragged coat and a growth of red whiskers was ejected from a residence in East End this morning because of a torrent of abuse which he heaped upon the family. He had been taken in and given a meal, which he did not like.

Bert Irons, the wheelman who made many friends in this city last season, is in Florida spending the winter with friends. Aughenbaugh, who was injured by an explosion in the laboratory of the Ohio university at Columbus, is getting along nicely, and gradually recovering his sight.

Morgan Hamilton, an employee of the Lythe works, came near being drowned on Saturday. He was crossing the river in a boat, and stepped out on what he thought was firm ice, but it proved to be a detached piece, and tilted. Hamilton went down and came near being drowned.

A longing for fine clothes and money with which to cut a dash caused the separation of a couple on the Calcutta road on Saturday. The woman frequently upbraided her lord because he would not allow her enough money on which to shine, and she went to the home of her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. F. I. Simmers returned on Saturday from Tuscarawas, where they attended the funeral of Mr. Simmers' mother, who died last week. While waiting for a train at Mingo on Saturday they saw Wesley Bell, a farmer, killed by a freight train. He leaves a wife and six small children.

They tell a good story of an escape in which a member of the pony crew figured yesterday afternoon. Masquerading in women's clothes he walked about the streets of Wellsville, causing no end of sensation. His antics caused laughter, and no one penetrated his identity until after he had enjoyed the fun.

The Bedford and the Ben Hur went up the river yesterday, and will be down today. The Ben Hur left 30 barrels of salt here, and it was reported that the barrels contained cement for the bridge. The salt was purchased by a company of farmers in Hancock county, who wanted to get it at first cost and save the jobbing profit.

The river is high and filled with ice. All the shore ice above is breaking away and floating as fast as possible toward the gulf. Many minor accidents have been reported, but none of any importance have occurred. A skiff without oars or occupants floated down yesterday, but the ice was abundant and no one rowed out to capture it.

There is more railroad talk than for weeks, and it is gleaned that the city is very well satisfied to see the Baltimore and Ohio behind the Canton and East Liverpool. "Some railroad company will come in here very soon and share the patronage of the town with the Cleveland and Pittsburgh," remarked a big shipper, "and I would rather have a big trunk line like the Baltimore and Ohio than a little branch connecting with some small town."

WOULD HAVE SHOT HER

Mrs. Fred C. Maxwell So Says
of Her Husband.

SHE WANTS HER MAIDEN NAME

The Husband, According to the Petition For Divorce, Wanted to Shoot Her and Was Insanely Jealous—A Wellsville Story of Matrimony.

Special to News Review.

LISBON, Jan. 27.—The promised sensation from Wellsville developed today when Mrs. Fred C. Maxwell asked the court to legally separate her from her husband and give her back the name she bore before the ceremony—Emma E. Shaub.

The pair were married last September, and Mrs. Maxwell brings a whole string of charges against her husband. She says that he has grossly neglected her and failed to provide for her wants. A few days after they were married he became insanely jealous, and would not allow her to speak to any other of his sex. He also charged her, she says, with having had improper relations with other men, and Oct. 1 would have shot her if other people had not interfered. The suit caused no end of a sensation in Wellsville as it was generally known the case would be filed.

A note given three years ago last December caused a suit in court today. It was given by John Harrison to Lucinda Martin, and the amount involved is $1,500. It was secured by a mortgage on two lots in East Liverpool, and an order of sale is asked.

Disgusted a Pedestrian.

Fell Off the Car.

A Wellsville man who was in town on Saturday night fell from a street car in the West End. He was very drunk, and after an effort to save himself released his hold and rolled into the mud. The man was not hurt, but swore a great deal as he gathered himself up and wandered down the road.

The piece has been highly praised since its appearance, and East Liverpool theater goers will thoroughly enjoy it.

BEGAN BUILDING TODAY

New Derricks Springing Up In
West Virginia.

MANY ACRES HAVE BEEN TAKEN

Three Wells to Be Started at Once—Harvey Allison Leads the Enterprise—It Will Show a New Territory if Successful—A Stock Company.

Workmen will today begin work on three derricks which, it is believed, will open up a new oil country opposite this city.

The land was leased a few weeks ago, and amounts in all to 400 acres. Harvey Allison, a packer employed at the Dresden, is back of the enterprise, and hopes to push it to completion at once. The land is in the region of Middle creek, just opposite the city, and the greater part of it lies a few miles back from the river. The Bridgewater company once drilled a well on the edge of the territory, but it came in a duster and the section was abandoned. Since then oil men have claimed to have found strong evidences of the valuable fluid, and the present movement is the result.

Mr. Allison told a reporter that three wells have been located and would be drilled at once in sections of the territory most liable to show what is under the surface. He is doing this himself, but has a number of people ready to enter a company, and if oil is found this will be formed, and the territory punched full of holes.

HER FIRST REHEARSAL.

In writing of her first appearance on the stage Mary Anderson de Navarro tells in The Ladies' Home Journal that the opportunity to play was presented her by Manager McCauley at his Louisville theater. The star who was playing at the theater had failed to attract paying houses, and Dr. Griffin, who was Mrs. de Navarro's stepfather and her business manager, suggested to Mr. McCauley that she be given a chance to play. The offer was gladly accepted, and Mrs. de Navarro writes that there was only one rehearsal, and it was called for the next morning. "On my way to the cathedral," she adds, "I was enchanted to see posters on the fences making the announcement. The main part of the poster was devoted to advertising Milnes Levick in 'The Spy,' and at the bottom in smaller type the show bill read: 'Saturday Evening, Nov. 27, 1895—Miss Mary Anderson, a young lady of this city, will make her first appearance on any stage as Juliet in Shakespeare's 'Romeo and Juliet.' Milnes Levick as Mercutio, and a powerful cast of characters."

"As I was in the quiet church the hour for rehearsal struck, and I started for the theater in a radiant frame of mind. Passing with my people through the darkened house and private boxes covered with their linen drusts, I found myself for the first time upon the stage. How strange and dreamlike it seemed, that empty theater, lighted only here and there by the faint glimmer of the gray day without, bereft of all the eager faces it had always been peopled with! And the stage! How dismal it was with the noisy patter of the rain on its tin roof, a small gas jet burning in the center, throwing a dingy light on the men and women (they did not relish the extra rehearsal), gloomily standing in the wings. On seeing me, all looked surprised. Some made remarks in whispers, which I felt to be unkind; others laughed audibly. Scarcely 16, my hair in a long braid, my frock reaching to my boot tops, tall, shy and awkward, I may have given them cause for merriment, but it was as cruel, I thought, as underbred, to make no effort to conceal their mirth at my expense. However, their rudeness was salutary in its effect, putting me on my mettle before the work began."

Keeping Employees Honest.

"Distrust probably makes more thieves than were ever evolved by the laws of heredity," said a gentleman recently who has a business in which he employs a large number of men, all holding positions in which the element of trust is peculiarly great. "In my business I always make my men understand that I have the utmost confidence in them, and the result of this has been that I have never had an employee exhibit the least dishonest trait."

"Put a man on his honor and make him know that he is not being watched, but being trusted, and he will rarely, unless disposed to it by heredity, steal. Of course some men are born thieves and should never be trusted. They steal because the influence is too great for them to resist. Often surrounding a man with all sorts of devices and systems to prevent him from stealing has the effect of causing him to look out for a way of beating the bank. We are all strangely susceptible to that much talked of force, suggestion—more than we appreciate—and when the very environment in which we work suggests dishonesty every minute it is not much wonder that it has a very positive effect upon the mind in causing it to think dishonestly."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

SEATS TO BE CONTESTED.

Desperate Tactics May Be Employed In the Kentucky Senatorial Fight.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 27.—It was learned from a trustworthy source that at least one of the contested election cases pending in the house against Democratic members, that of Werner against Tompkins, will shortly be brought to a conclusion, the committee having decided to seat the Republican contestant. It is also stated that proceedings against Cecil Pence (Dem.) of Covington will not be pressed unless made necessary by action in the senate.

In event of such necessity proceedings will be instituted against several other Democratic members in the lower house. Both parties have had men out gathering evidence in all close districts. No steps will be taken in any of the contests until Feb. 6, when the successor of Wilson (Dem.), deceased, shall have been elected. This will have an important effect on the contest for United States senator.

AFTER PATRICK COLLINS.

Cleveland Foresters Think the Consul General is Negligent.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 27.—The Foresters of this city have asked Secretary of State Olney for an explanation of the neglect of Patrick A. Collins, United States consul general at London, to give certain information that was requested of him. Fred McAdams, a Forester, whose home was in this city, died in a London coffee house, and when his brethren heard of his death they asked Consul General Collins to look after his effects and see that they were returned to his relatives here.

It is asserted that the consul general paid no attention to the request, and that it was necessary to proceed through another channel. Past Chief Ranger Johnson of Court Forest City has laid the case before Secretary Olney, and is awaiting an explanation.

A Valuable Image Found.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Jan. 27.—Opposite Blennerhassett island, in an old Indian mound, near Cedarville, O., has been found a stone image of a woman in a sitting posture. It is smoothly and beautifully carved, well proportioned, and shows the female features clearly and regularly. Prof. Stahl, to whose famous collection the image has been added, thinks the find dates back many centuries, probably to the times of the shepherd kings, and long prior to the mound builders.

Unenviable Record as a Forger.

WOULD HAVE SHOT HER

Mrs. Fred C. Maxwell So Says
of Her Husband.

SHE WANTS HER MAIDEN NAME

The Husband, According to the Petition
For Divorce, Wanted to Shoot Her and
Was Insanely Jealous—A Wellsville
Story of Matrimony.

Lisbon, Jan. 27.—The promised sensation from Wellsville developed today when Mrs. Fred C. Maxwell asked the court to legally separate her from her husband and give her back the name she bore before the ceremony—Emma E. Shaub.

The pair were married last September, and Mrs. Maxwell brings a whole string of charges against her husband. She says that he has grossly neglected her and failed to provide for her wants. A few days after they were married he became insanely jealous, and would not allow her to speak to any others of his sex. He also charged her, she says, with having had improper relations with other men, and Oct. 1 would have shot her if other people had not interfered. The suit caused no end of a sensation in Wellsville as it was generally known the case would be filed.

A note given three years ago last December caused a suit in court today. It was given by John Harrison to Lucinda Martin, and the amount involved is $1,500. It was secured by a mortgage on two lots in East Liverpool, and an order of sale is asked.

West Virginia.

MANY ACRES HAVE BEEN TAKEN

Three Wells to Be Started at Once—Harvey Allison Leads the Enterprise—It Will Show a New Territory if Successful—A Stock Company.

Workmen will today begin work on three derricks which, it is believed, will open up a new oil country opposite this city.

The land was leased a few weeks ago, and amounts in all to 400 acres. Harvey Allison, a packer employed at the Dresden, is back of the enterprise, and hopes to push it to completion at once. The land is in the region of Middle creek, just opposite the city, and the greater part of it lies a few miles back from the river. The Bridgewater company once drilled a well on the edge of the territory, but it came in a duster and the section was abandoned. Since then oil men have claimed to have found strong evidences of the valuable fluid, and the present movement is the result.

Mr. Allison told a reporter that three wells have been located and would be drilled at once in sections of the territory most liable to show what is under the surface. He is doing this himself, but has a number of people ready to enter a company, and if oil is found this will be formed, and the territory punched full of holes.

HER FIRST REHEARSAL.

In writing of her first appearance on the stage Mary Anderson de Navarro tells in "The Ladies' Home Journal" that the opportunity to play was presented her by Manager McCauley at his Louisville theater. The star who was playing at the theater had failed to attract paying houses, and Dr. Griffin, who was Mrs. de Navarro's stepfather and her business manager, suggested to Mr. McCauley that she be given a chance to play. The offer was gladly accepted, and Mrs. de Navarro writes that there was only one rehearsal, and it was called for the next morning. "On my way to the cathedral," she adds, "I was enchanted to see posters on the fences making the announcement. The main part of the poster was devoted to advertising Milnes Levick in 'The Spy,' and at the bottom in smaller type the show bill read:

"Saturday Evening, Nov. 27, 1875—Miss Mary Anderson, a young lady of this city, will make her first appearance on any stage as Juliet in Shakespeare's 'Romeo and Juliet.' Milnes Levick as Mercutio, and a powerful cast of characters.

"As I was in the quiet church the hour for rehearsal struck, and I started for the theater in a radiant frame of mind. Passing with my people through the darkened house and private boxes covered with their linen dusters, I found myself for the first time upon the stage. How strange and dreamlike it seemed, that empty theater, lighted only here and there by the faint glimmer of the gray day without, bereft of all the eager faces it had always been peopled with! And the stage! How dismal it was with the noisy patter of the rain on its tin roof, a small gas jet burning in the center, throwing a dingy light on the men and women (they did not relish the extra rehearsal), gloomily standing in the wings. On seeing me, all looked surprised. Some made remarks in whispers, which I felt to be unkind; others laughed audibly. Scarcely 16, my hair in a long braid, my frock reaching to my boot tops, tall, shy and awkward, I may have given them cause for merriment, but it was as cruel. I thought, as underbred, to make no effort to conceal their mirth at my expense. However, their rudeness was salutary in its effect, putting me on my mettle before the work began."

Keeping Employees Honest.
"Distrust probably makes more thieves than were ever evolved by the laws of heredity," said a gentleman recently who has a business in which he employs a large number of men, all holding positions in which the element of trust is peculiarly great. "In my business I always make my men understand that I have the utmost confidence in them, and the result of this has been that I have never had an employee exhibit the least dishonest trait.

"Put a man on his honor and make him know that he is not being watched, but being trusted, and he will rarely, unless disposed to it by heredity, steal. Of course some men are born thieves and should never be trusted. They steal because the influence is too great for them to resist. Often surrounding a man with all sorts of devices and systems to prevent him from stealing has the effect of causing him to look out for a way of beating the bank. We are all strangely susceptible to that much talked of force, suggestion—more than we appreciate—and when the very environment in which we work suggests dishonesty every minute it is not much wonder that it has a very positive effect upon the mind in causing it to think dishonestly."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 27.—It was learned from a trustworthy source that at least one of the contested election cases pending in the house against Democratic members, that of Werner against Tompkins, will shortly be brought to a conclusion, the committee having decided to seat the Republican contestant. It is also stated that proceedings against Cecil Pence (Dem.) of Covington will not be pressed unless made necessary by action in the senate.

In event of such necessity proceedings will be instituted against several other Democratic members in the lower house. Both parties have had men out gathering evidence in all close districts. No steps will be taken in any of the contests until Feb. 6, when the successor of Wilson (Dem.), deceased, shall have been elected. This will have an important effect on the contest for United States senator.

AFTER PATRICK COLLINS.

Cleveland Foresters Think the Consul General is Negligent.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 27.—The Foresters of this city have asked Secretary or State Olney for an explanation of the neglect of Patrick A. Collins, United States consul general at London, to give certain information that was requested of him. Fred McAdams, a Forester, whose home was in this city, died in a London coffee house, and when his brethren heard of his death they asked Consul General Collins to look after his effects and see that they were returned to his relatives here.

It is asserted that the consul general paid no attention to the request, and that it was necessary to proceed through another channel. Past Chief Ranger Johnson of Court Forest City has laid the case before Secretary Olney, and is awaiting an explanation.

Prof. Stahl, to whose famous collection the image has been added, thinks the find dates back many centuries, probably to the times of the shepherd kings, and long prior to the mound builders.
